

The Exhibits at the State Fair Among the Best Ever Seen in State

SECOND DAY AT FAIR DRAWS THOUSANDS

glence moves in, these undesirable get on the stage and attempt to sing, by which time the tent is half filled with thug, crooks and the like.

Hoot at Decent Folk.
About the time they have disgusted everybody the manager informs the women in the seats that they must go, and as the unhappy females, who strolled in without knowing the nature of the performance, started out, they blushed as the thugs proceeded to guff them. Two cops, sitting by the thugs, merely smiled. If all that the manager promises the men when the decent element has departed is really on the program, the society circus should be put in jail, thugs, managers, women and all.

Considering these facts, set forth by the worst of the Richmond people should give the place a wide berth to-day if the management permits it to remain. If it does stay, the management should protect the decent women by some bill-board sign that it is too outrageous for their eyes and ears.

Some Amusing Shows.
Otherwise, the midway is not offensive. A well known and respectable colored barber of Richmond is manager of a negro show that is ludicrous. The darky type is there to amuse, and the women who visited it remained a laugh. So it is with many more. A greater number were in operation than on the opening day, and the crowds, tramping from the grandstand to the section reserved for the exhibits, halted long enough to hear the spellers. A self-appointed guardian of the ignorant would have his hands full, however, for when a rough but honest man from the farm comes along he is likely to be pestered by one or a dozen crooks, who are in no way connected with the place.

Great Interest in Exhibits.

But the crowds come from all points to the State Fair to find substantial things. They get it here. They have anticipated the judges by picking the ribbon winners; they have admired the display of cattle, of horses, of swine and poultry; they have marveled at the development brought about in recent years in the manufactured articles for the farm; they have praised the domestic exhibit, the poultry, in fact, everything, which makes the fair like a small-sized exposition, and one which appeals most forcefully to the man from the farm.

For Richmond Folk To-Day.

From now on the fair will be even better than for the past two days. The rough edges are not apparent now. The machinery of the association moves more smoothly; the attendance will steadily increase, and for the next four days there will be the life of a busy city within the grounds. Richmond will swarm through the gates this morning and this afternoon, and to-morrow the crowds, delayed in reaching the city, will go there for a good time. And then, on Friday, with William Jennings Bryan as the star attraction, the grandstand and nearby space will be filled and running over.

Mr. Bryan's acceptance of an invitation to address the people of Virginia on this occasion has been especially appreciated by that element which admires him, politics and all, and by the fair management, for it helps swell the gate receipts. He will talk about national issues, and will cover much of the ground which he has been over often before. Still, the people want to hear him speak, and they will be rewarded.

No Set Program.
There are no set features for to-day outside of those already mentioned. The Richmond celebration will be thoroughly informal, without oratory or marching or military spectacles. It will rather be an occasion for sight-seeing and merry-making. While the crowds are waiting between times they will be entertained by a free vaudeville performance, which is first-class in every way. Major Delmar will come out for his mile performance about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and, though he will go alone, the exhibition will prove to be a fine attraction.

EXHIBITS DREW LARGE CROWDS

Best Display Ever Seen at a Virginia Fair—Owners of Poultry.

The live stock, agricultural, poultry and farm machinery exhibits at the State Fair grow in interest every day. These features of the show are attracting wide attention and most favorable comment. The live stock exhibits are ahead of anything of the kind ever shown in the South, and reflect great credit on the State Fair and on the breeders of the State.

The judging of swine and all beef breeds of cattle will begin to-day. Exhibition horses and sheep will also be judged to-day, beginning at 10 o'clock. The Meadowbrook Farm, of Cedarburg, Ohio, has an exhibition a splendid herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. There are twelve in the herd, the leader being a splendid bull, Lucius Prince, weighing 2,200 pounds. This big animal wears many honors, having won first prize at the International Fair at Chicago and first prize at St. Louis, Wis., an unbeaten three-year-old heifer, is also an attraction in this herd. She weighs 1,625 pounds, and was a winner at St. Louis. All the other animals in this herd are beautiful.

Another exhibitor whose herd is attracting a great deal of attention is Mr. E. W. Cotton, of Manilla, Ind. Lucky Pride, his prize bull, weighs 2,000 pounds, and is just three years old. Daybreak is a two-year-old bull, which touches the beam at 1,725 pounds. Other younger bulls in the herd weigh as well, proportionately. Charles, a two-year-old cow in this herd, is a little beauty, weighing exactly 1,440 pounds. Mr. Cotton has ten animals here.

W. H. Curtice, of Eminence, Kentucky, is a new exhibitor in Virginia. He has four magnificent bulls and one cow. The leader, a registered bull, won first prize at the Kentucky State Fair. Agricultural Implement Show.
The International Harvester Company of America is making a great display at the State Fair. Everything in its exhibit is a labor-saving device. Gasoline engines to do the work of horses and of inferior human labor are seen at work. They furnish the power to shuck corn, pump water, saw wood, grind feed, make cream, churn milk, bale hay and do pretty much everything else that Southern farmers have been trying to do with inferior labor. The display of wagons of improved makes and of all manner of farm machinery is great.

The C. B. Ford Co., Inc., of Richmond, has opened a good exhibit, showing one of its Ajax gasoline engines, which is said to be the only motor exhibited in Virginia.
The Empire Drill Company, of Shortsville, N. Y., is on the grounds with grain drills, broadcast fertilizer sowers, one-horse corn mills, etc., the exhibit being under the direction of Mr. S. K. Miller and Mr. W. R. Faulkner.
W. T. Hood & Co., of the Old Dominion Nurseries, has a neatly arranged exhibit of forestry plants, etc.
The domestic art department is very attractive and contains a varied assortment of women's handwork, all of which is tastefully displayed by Misses Werth and McIntyre.

A patchwork quilt is shown, the cotton of which it is made having been grown more than fifty years ago. The cotton was spun, woven into cloth and dyed by the maker of the quilt, who has entered it for a prize.

Great Poultry Exhibit.

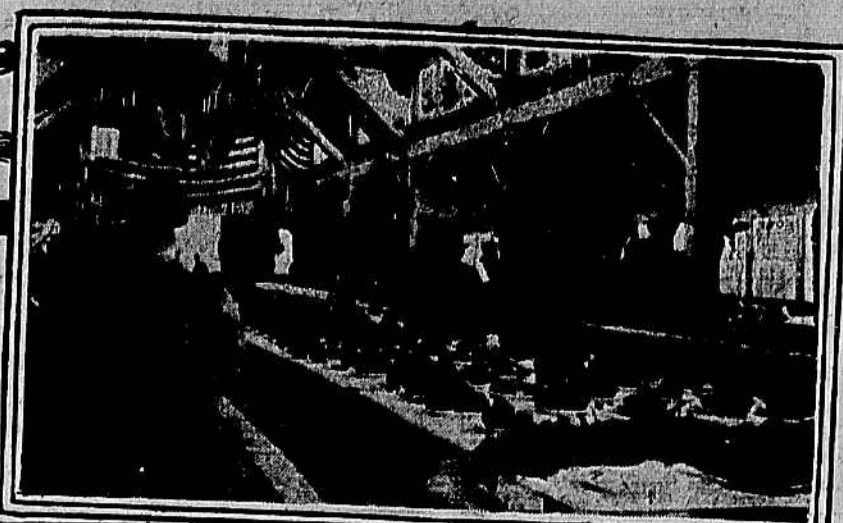

The poultry show is the finest and largest ever seen in the State. More than 1,500 birds are here, and the show is attracting hundreds of visitors.

Following is a list of exhibitors with a description of the class of birds entered by each:

CITY NOT TO GIVE DINNER TO BRYAN

That Is, Unless Committee
Changes Its Mind at Meeting To-Day.

Members of the subcommittee on entertainment, appointed by City Council, are rather sore about the publication of a story yesterday afternoon that they had refused to recognize Mr. William Jennings Bryan, so far as the expenditure of public money for a feast was concerned. The subcommittee reported to the general committee yesterday morning that it was an expedient to give a banquet, but final action on this report was deferred until to-day. But somehow the Bryan storm broke.

In the first place, aside from all other considerations, the point was made by members of the committee that Mr. Bryan would be brought here specifically as a State Fair attraction. Without trying to take from him any of the glory that was his, it was maintained, moreover, that Mr. Bryan was not the city's guest, and that he was coming simply to add to the grandeur of the fair and to help the gate receipts.

"As this is not a political function," said one member, "we could hardly give Mr. Bryan a dollar dinner. Though I do not care to say anything derogatory of the Councilmen, for I'm of that lot, I submit that we are not the proper representatives of the city to dine with him. Some of the best known citizens of Richmond are not on his reception committee, and if we should select that type and give a banquet what would we do with the names without recognition?" There is no occasion for a howl, Mr. Bryan will be entertained by the fair, he will have a most delightful breakfast; he will be satisfied in every way, and that should be the end of it.

Reception Committee.

The following compose the Bryan Reception Committee: Mayor McCarthy, Governor Swanson, Mayor McCarthy, C. E. Doyle, General Manager, Chesapeake and Ohio; Judge S. B. Witt, Ben. T. August, City Clerk; D. Q. Eggleston, Secretary of the Commonwealth; John H. Frisckorn, president Board of Piro Commissioners; Charles O. Saffell, Clerk, Chancery; Charles O. Saffell, Jr., Ingram, Minstree Folkes, Commonwealth's Attorney; Milton E. Marcuse, Thomas B. Hicks, Powhatan James, Thomas W. Gardner, M. A. Chambers, Secretary State Fair; Judge John H. Crutcher, George McD. Burke, A. R. Hordley, Jr., Clyde W. Saunders, T. A. Miller, president Retail Merchants' Association; Captain William M. Myers, M. C. Patterson, A. H. Clements, editor Appomattox and Buckingham Times; S. R. Longene, editor Fairfax Herald; Arthur P. Divine, editor the Loudoun Mirror; R. S. Turk, editor the Staunton Spectator; W. H. WOMAN'S RELIEF

What Cardui Did

One can only judge of what Cardui will do for you, by what it has done for others.

It has been called "Woman's Relief," because of its wonderful power, demonstrated in actual experience before the public, during more than 50 years, over the pains, distresses and ills, from which women are so prone to suffer.

During this time, over a million suffering women have successfully invoked its aid, in their womanly troubles.

As an individual case, we will instance that of Mrs. Emma Carrier, of Emmett, Tenn., who writes as follows: "Wine of Cardui has done me more good than all four of the doctors who treated my case. I went through several operations for female trouble, but I got no better; until I took Wine of Cardui, which brought me relief. I consider it the most wonderful woman's medicine in the world, and cannot sufficiently express my gratitude for it."

Mrs. Emma Carrier, Emmett, Tenn.

Cardui is a specific, curative remedy, for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress, regulate irregularities and strengthen weak womanly organs. Sold by dealers everywhere in $1 bottles, with full directions for use. Why not try it?

RAW FROM FEET TO SHOULDERS

With Eczema—When Indoors, Itching Was Fearful—Prescription Did No Good—Followed Friend's Advice and Found Speedy Relief.

A PERFECT CURE BY USE OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I was raw from my shoulders down to my feet. As soon as I went into a warm room I could not stand the itching sensation. I tried several remedies with no relief, and I consulted a doctor who told me that I had eczema and gave me a box of ointment. I used it about two weeks and got no benefit. I then tried another ointment with the same result. Then I was advised to try the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and commenced to use them. By the time I had used about half of each of them I could see an improvement. After that I continued to use them until I had used four cakes of Soap, three large boxes of Ointment, and two large bottles of Resolvent in four or five weeks' time. At the end of this period, my skin was as clear as it could be. It is now three or four years since I used them and I wish to state that the Cuticura Remedies are the greatest in the world not only for eczema but for female trouble, from which my wife has been a sufferer for years. Cuticura Remedies, used in connection with one of the Cuticura syringes have done wonders for her. Fred E. Baker, 14 Grotto St., Watervliet, N. Y., Nov. 30, 1906, and Jan. 20, '07."

CUTICURA

The Great Skin Cure and Purest and Sweetest of Emollients.

A single anointing with Cuticura Ointment, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed in the severe cases by a dose of Cuticura Pills, is sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly humors, eczema, rashes, and irritations, persistent and obstinate, and produces a speedy cure, in the majority of cases, when all else fails.

Cuticura Remedies are sold by druggists and by mail. Cuticura Soap, 40¢ a box. Cuticura Ointment, 40¢ a box. Cuticura Pills, 25¢ a box. Cuticura Resolvent, 40¢ a bottle. Academy to-day, matinee and night, is notable for its comedy characters. Mr. Ade's humor has displayed itself not only in the lines and speeches and situations, but in the types of persons and the cleverly caricatured features of the comedians. This feature of the theatrical comedy adds decidedly to its interest. It is said that a really clever story is told in the play, and that even without the musical accessories it would stand as an interesting comedy. When so much worth is added the embellishment of bright and spirited melodies, fascinating choruses and captivating dances, there is little left to be desired.

"Peaceful Valley," one of the best plays dealing with country life in the United States, is being revived this season under the direction of E. T. Martin, who will present it at the Academy to-morrow night.

The leading roles will be taken by Mr. Edward Saxon. Among the players engaged to support Mr. Saxon in this piece is Carson Bradford, a young Southern actor.

101 Ranch Coming.

Two of the Miller brothers, the millionaire cattlemen, who own the celebrated "101," at Dallas, Okla., one of the largest and most valuable ranches in the world, will arrive in Richmond with the Miller Bros. Company, of Beach and Wild West Shows, next Monday, and will appear in the arena in the Horse Show Building.

The attraction comes direct from the Jamestown Exposition. The cowboys and Indians will be in camp at Reservoir Park on Sunday, and the Indian village and plainsmen's quarters will be open to the public free of charge. All visitors will be welcomed. On Monday there will be a picturesque street parade, in which 300 Indians and cowboys will ride the entire length of Broad and Main Streets.

UNKNOWN WOMAN MURDERED

Body Found on Railway Tracks, and Is Yet Unidentified.

NEW YORK, October 8.—An unidentified woman, young and showing signs of refinement in dress and features, was found dead this morning on the freight tracks of the New York Central railroad at Riverside Park and 115th Street. Every indication pointed, it was said, to a murder. It appeared that the body was thrown there to give the idea that the woman either fell from the cliff above or was run over by a train.

No clue that would lead to the identification of the young woman was found by the police. Any jewelry that she might have had on had been stolen. Her money was gone.

Building Permits.

Building Inspector H. P. Beck yesterday issued the following building permits:

C. G. Scholm, to erect a brick stable at No. 2310 Grove Avenue, cost $800.
Hollywood Cemetery Company, to build a funeral home at No. 412 South Cherry Street, cost $400.
The inspector laid his new building code before the Council for approval Monday night, but was not reached in the regular order of business before adjournment.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless advice to all women sent free.
